

REFLECTION

A glance in the mirror, then turn away
Today is not a good looking day,
Try to be cheerful, and force a smile
Those wrinkles will be less daunting in a while.
With eyebrows filled out, this new liner helped there,
Now a concealer, smooth on with care,
A light pat of foundation adds colour and sheen,
Some improvement? Or just me being keen?
Add colour with a lipstick shining bright,
A touch of mascara will make things look right.
There make-up over, it's the best I can do.
A glance in the mirror, face the world with a smile,
The day's looking better, it just takes a while.

By Hildred Priestley

Swadlincote Eureka Guild